water anymore and they did not eat the bananas that the children left. The children told their parents that something was wrong with the kings because they were not the same of all years, they were different. The children wanted a solution because they wanted their kings. They all wrote a letter to the kings saying what happened to them and that they love them very much. The kings read the letters of all the people them of the world and they sent them an answer. The kings revealed letters from all saying that they the world loved them very much but that they were very old to read the letters and from going all over the world distributing presents. The people thought on a solution. They had a party and they said they were the best and they had a lot of christmas spirit, and all ended up very happy.
