Living in Cities.

Urbanization has been a constant 1	in human development for the past ten thou	sand years.
2there has always been the ne	ecessity for a minimum - sometimes a very substan	tial minimum - of the 3 to work th	e land, such surplus individuals as can be 4	have tended to gather in cities. Two thousand	years ago, the cities of antiquity 5 an ad	ministrative
6 for the surrounding area, an	d a refuge from attack. In the Middle Ages, it was t	he city folk
7 were the first to break the st	tultifying grip of feudalism, and it was in the cities o	of Northern
Italy that the 8 of the Renaiss	ance was 9
Today only a fraction of mankind lives in	the country, and the 10 which does so is	5 exceeding ten million are common, and they will be even 11 so over the coming de	ecades. While many 12 of city life are ur	nattractive -
pollution, stress, and separation from 13.	to name but a few - more and more of	humanity
