This year Sophie was plenty of sad because her family was so poor and she couldn't have a lot of Christmas presents.

A friend of Sophie gave her a present. It was a sock!

Sophie went at home and she put it over the chimney. It was the 24th of December! Sophie was excited because Santa Claus was coming.

When Sophie woke up. She watched the sock and it was empty so she started to cry.

Suddenly she watched the sock again and it was full of sweets and chocolates.

Sophie stopped crying and she was now very happy. She took all the sweets and chocolates and she went to show them to her parents. When she returned, the sock was full again, it was incredible! She went to tell it to her parents with the chocolates and sweets and when they returned together to the chimney the sock was full again. It was magical!
