

C2 USEFUL READING EXPRESSIONS FOR THE SPEAKING EXAM

What better way to make the most of these days at home than curling up on the sofa with a good book!

Reading is likely to be one of many people's hobbies and we may well be asked about things we do in our free time in the speaking exam, but remember: a somewhat simple topic such as reading should not be answered with something simple like "I'm keen on reading"!

So, make sure you revise good vocabulary related to your hobbies.

Choose the best words from the box at the bottom of the page to complete these questions / answers about reading.

What type of books to you enjoy reading?

Historical novels which enable you to _____1_____ what it was like to live in the past?

Do you read things _____2_____ or do you prefer to choose your own books?

When buying a new book do you usually go for _____3_____ or do you deliberately _____4_____ of them?

A gripping story that's a real _____5_____?

When was the last time you read a book that was so good that you couldn't _____6_____?

Would you call yourself a _____7_____?

Have you always been a booklover? When I was younger my mum said I always had my _____8_____.

Or maybe you're not that keen on reading or you read less than you used to....you could explain that you don't have much _____9_____ these days and reading is not your _____10_____ when you do have time to relax.

head in a book put it down steer clear gain an insight into top priority

page-turner on recommendation best-sellers bookworm time on your hands

ANSWERS TO C2 READING EXPRESSIONS FOR SPEAKING EXAM

1.	gain an insight into
2.	on recommendation
3.	best-sellers
4.	steer clear
5.	page-turner
6.	put it down
7.	bookworm
8.	head in a book
9.	time on your hands
10.	top priority